Hi, I've been trying to use the script to replace the word "Spreadsheet" in a particular text file with the word "Progress". I have more than 50 files of this type and they need to be replaced. The script works perfectly for one file, but not for another. Here is the code: I am using C#6 and when I am trying to do two things at once, I lose the file. I checked this thread from the time it was active and attempted several of the solutions - even though the file being processed had no lock applied. I have not gotten an answer. Any thoughts? I have 2 photo editor files, image 1 and image 2, that I want to merge together. When I am dragging one file into the other, it automatically opens up, shows you the code, I copy and paste that code, and boom, it is merged into one photo. I like to use this feature to combine several pictures into one big picture. I have been searching high and low for a way to apply layer masks to a selection of images, and could not find a way.
